

1) What is your favourite dish, colour, and liquor?

A: Black, ramen and fernet branca

2) What place in the world would you like to visit?

A: There are several places I'd love to visit, but if I were to choose one right now, it would be Tuva.

3) If you were to live on a deserted island or in a crowded city, you would choose...

A: I'm most likely to get all the things I need in a city. (laughs)

4) Had you not become a musician, you would be...

A: A painting artist or an author.

5) What negative attribute of a man is the lousiest?

A: Greed.

6) What was the first cassette or CD you bought with your own money?

A: It could have been a Sex Pistols record.

7) Give us three of the most influential albums on the development of metal music.

A: Black Sabbath debut, Iron Maiden - The Number of the Beast and the Bathory debut.

8) Do you do any sports? Or maybe you watch some on the TV?

A: I don't do any sports. However, I do work out regularly.

9) What situation during a tour do you mention most often?

A: Playing a show with a USB-drummer that would skip the drum tracks while playing a song live... good times.

10) What would you do if you won 5 mln Euro in a lottery?

A: The same as now, live life.

11) What would you like to accomplish with music?

A: To keep creating and touring.

12) An album you'd never put into your CD player?

A: Everything I do not like, haha.

13) Who did you want to become as a child?

A: Johnny Rotten.

14) What dish you did (not) enjoy to eat, but you could not say "no"?

A: A backstage snack in Poland, actually. No offence, but those sandwiches were awful. But still, we had to eat something!

15) The strangest gift you've ever received from a fan?

A: A small black book with one word on each page.

16) What's the worst album by your favourite band?

A: X-Factor by Iron Maiden.. great songs, but the live versions with Dickinson sound way better.

17) What pisses you off the most in the world?

A: People eating with their mouth open, especially when I'm tired. (laughs)

18) Songs/albums/bands whose phenomenon you do not understand even if they are legendary?

A: There are plenty of bands like this. A hard one. However, there's probably a reason why they're legendary in the first place. Everything comes down to taste.

19) What's the best TV show you've ever watched?

A: I don't watch many, but Stranger Things was pretty good.

20) The stupidest thing you've done in your life?

A: That I won't tell.
